EARTH PYRAMID

Matrix Global Schools will be launching:
EPIC – Earth Pyramid Incubation Centre
www.earthpyramid.org

The aim of the Earth Pyramid project is to create a monument that every nation and an entire generation of the world's children can contribute to. With the many issues the world is facing it is now more important than ever for us to start working together to educate and prepare our children for the challenges they will be facing in their lifetimes.

Aided by modern technology the world has never been more connected and it's a great time in history to try and get the world working together and discussing these issues.

The Earth Pyramid's mission is to act as a focal point for learning about other countries around the world and to look at how our actions and inactions today will affect the future our children will inherit. By connecting a generation of the world's children we hope this shared bond will create a greater understanding of other cultures and encourage a generation to be united in tackling and supporting each other in future decision making and actions. If we combine our efforts as a planet it will be amazing to see what the power of a united generation can achieve.

This monument will be a celebration of our world with its many cultures and although it won't bring about world peace or solve the many issues our planet is facing it will help to educate and give people a chance to connect on a global scale. Come along to the conference to find out more.

Come join our conference and share in our Technological Journey of Educational Innovation.

Speaker Biographies

TORI JAMES www.torjames.com

Tori James, at the age of 25, became the youngest British woman and the first Welsh woman to climb to the summit of Mount Everest. Tori stars in the BBC documentary 'On Top of the World' which was produced using video footage which she shot and directed whilst climbing Everest.

Tori spent three years working for the British Exploring which is based at the Royal Geographical Society (RGS) in London. It was during her time working in the attic of the RGS that she became part of a team that was determined to make the record books. In May 2005 The Pink Lady PoleCats became the first ever all-female team to complete The Polar Challenge, a grueling 360 mile race to the Magnetic North Pole. Not only did The Pink Lady PoleCats finish the race in 6th position out of 16 teams, beating all-male teams along the way, but they also raced through polar bear territory, across constantly-shifting sea ice and battled against temperatures of -40°C.

Two years later, on 24 May 2007, Tori climbed to the summit of Mount Everest (8,850 meters/29,035 feet).
